Terrain:

Never used for orienteering competitions. The terrain is mountainous, with significant elevation gain, a significant number of rocks, and high rock faces. The terrain near the summit of Wzgórze Gniazdo is simple, while the riverside section is varied. The varied runnability is generally very good. The road network is moderately developed.

Entries:

Through the PZOS registration form. WRE competitors additionally through IOF Eventor. Foreign competitors (ONLY) via the registration form on orienteeringonline.net. For the CX80 Knock-Out Challenge, registration is via the PZOS form - there is a limit of 64 entries in each of the M and K categories. Registrations will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Competitors will be removed from the entry list after the deadline without paying the entry fee. There is no entry limit in the K- and M- YOUTH categories (interval start).
